

Electronics circuits laboratory

Electronics lab is a dedicated space equipped with tools and instruments for hands-on learning and experimentation in the field of electronics, encompassing the study of electronic components, circuits, and their applications. It focuses on the design, construction, and testing of electronic circuits. It is well equipped with Power Supplies: DC and AC, DSOs, Function Generators, Multimeters, Breadboards etc.